Mile Marker #7: My Strengths Snapshot

Who you are at your best, and what that means for where you're headed.

This Mile Marker asks you to do something with your HIGH5 and Values Card Sort results: reflect on what they mean for how you learn, how you work with others, and where you might be headed. There are no good or bad strengths, only honest reflection.

For in-person classes. Fill in this handout by hand, then upload a photo or scan to the Mile Marker #7 assignment in Blackboard. You can also type in the boxes and save it as a PDF. Before you start, take both assessments. The rest of this Mile Marker uses your results.

QUESTION 1

Your Top 5 HIGH5 Strengths

List them exactly as the assessment reports them, spelling and capitalization included.

A strong answer Lists all five, in order, exactly as reported.

1. List your Top 5 strengths, in order.

QUESTION 2

Accuracy Reflection

What do your results say about how you think, feel, or work?

A strong answer Explains your strengths in plain language, names the one that fits best and why, and is honest about what surprised you.

1. Name the strength that feels most accurate, and explain why it fits.

2. Describe one result that surprised you or felt off, and what you make of it.

QUESTION 3

Strengths in Action: Academics

Be concrete: not "study more," but how your particular strengths change how you approach studying, class, or assignments.

A strong answer Names three concrete ways, each tied to a specific strength, and describes how one strength shows up with others.

1. Describe three specific ways your strengths can support your learning this semester, each tied to a strength.

2. Pick one strength, and describe how it shows up when you work with classmates or on a team.

QUESTION 4

Strengths and Values in Action: Career Direction

How might your strengths and values connect to a future field, role, or work environment?

A strong answer Names one or two work environments that fit your strengths and connects at least one of your values to the direction you're exploring.

1. Name one or two work environments, roles, or fields where your strengths would be a natural fit.

2. Explain how one of your top values connects to the direction you're exploring.

QUESTION 5

One Blind Spot Worth Watching

Every strength has an overuse pattern, something that works against you when it goes too far. Be honest, not hard on yourself.

A strong answer Names one real blind spot, describes what it looks like in your life, and gives one strategy for managing it.

1. Name one blind spot connected to your strengths, and what it looks like when it shows up.

2. Name one situation to watch for this semester, and what you'll do when you notice it.

QUESTION 6

Strengths-Based Goal

A strong answer Is specific, names a strength, and describes something you could actually do in the next few weeks.

1. Complete this sentence: "One way I will use my strengths in the next few weeks is..."
