Mile Marker #12: My Story to Share

The last Mile Marker on the trail, and the one only you could write.

You started the semester with a reflection on where you were. This one is about where you are now, and what you'd want to pass along to someone just starting out.

This module is your main working time for finishing your STAR(T) Stories, so this Mile Marker is intentionally short. Take 15 to 20 minutes, be honest, and let it be what it is.

Three ways to do this Mile Marker. It matches the Mile Marker #12 assignment in Blackboard. Print this handout and fill it in by hand, or type in the boxes below and save a PDF. Either way, upload the photo, scan, or PDF to the assignment. You can also type your answers in Blackboard, or record your response as video or audio.

Before you start: a quick look back

Skim your Mile Markers from Modules 1 through 11. You don't need to reread everything. Just notice challenges you worked through, habits that improved, academic or personal wins, skills you strengthened, shifts in your confidence or mindset, and how you think about AI.

QUESTION 1

Growth

Open your Mile Marker #1 and compare. Name two or three specific ways you've grown this semester, academically, personally, or professionally. If your thinking about AI has changed since Mile Marker #1, you can include that too.

A strong answer names two or three specific changes and compares them to where you started.*

Example: "I used to put off everything until the last minute. Tracking my time in Module 3 showed me where my hours were going, and I've kept using a weekly schedule since then."

QUESTION 2

Lessons Learned

What do you know now that you wish you'd known at the start of the semester? Then name one habit, strategy, or tool from this course that you'll actually keep using.

A strong answer names one real lesson and one habit, strategy, or tool you'll keep, and says why.*

Example: "I wish I'd known how many resources were on campus. I didn't ask for help for weeks because I didn't know who to ask. I'm keeping the 4C Check for big decisions."

One habit, strategy, or tool I'll keep using, and why

QUESTION 3

Words of Wisdom

Write a short message to your Week 1 self, or to a future FYE 100 student. What would you want them to know?

A strong answer sounds like you, and comes from something you actually lived this semester.*

Example: "Don't wait until you're overwhelmed to use the support that's already around you. It's there the whole time."

QUESTION 4

Still Growing

Name one area where you still want to grow, and one concrete next step you'll take.

A strong answer names one honest area and a next step you could put on your calendar.*

Example: "I still freeze up when I have to talk to an instructor. Next step: go to one office hour in my math class before finals."

One concrete next step I'll take
